Gardens of Hope Spring Cleanup on May 4 at 11:45am

Wear your clean gardening clothes to church on Sunday, May 4, and join us outside after worship to do some weeding, pruning, raking, and general spring cleanup. We will do what we can to get the gardens ready for the growing season, finishing up by 2:30 pm so you can attend the organ concert at 3 pm. Some tools will be provided, but feel free to bring your own gloves and your favorite rakes and pruners. I will be there to provide directions as needed. We will concentrate on the south and east sides of the church. And there is mulch to spread on the east side. Hope lots of you can come and work in God's Creation, and that it doesn't rain!

Complex Call Process, Thoughts for the Interim

The updates from the Call Committee are filled with the excitement of coming interviews. They have invested their time shaping questions and considering the context and approach for asking them. This makes me think fondly about the times I have been the interviewee with a call committee. Nearly every one of those conversations has started with the same question: “Tell us a little about yourself.” It’s both heart-warming and nerve-wracking to get the full attention of everyone around the table! Introductions have a way of setting the table for the rest of the time spent together.

As University Lutheran Church of Hope gets closer to welcoming a new pastor, this is a good time to practice our introductions. You can practice with people who already know you well, or with someone you are meeting for the first time. I have been seeing a lot of new people in worship lately!

Try a few different approaches to introducing yourself, and think about the questions you might ask of someone else. Do you like building a connection around hobbies or shared interests? Or maybe you appreciate learning about the vocation or commitments that fill a person’s days? I was once asked, “What pulls your heartstrings?” That led to a wonderful conversation!

One thing I have noticed about faith communities is that we often include how long we have been part of the congregation by way of introduction. I recognize this is usually done with the best of intentions—it’s a way to say, “I really care about this community,” or “This community has invited me to invest myself in meaningful ways.” Sharing how long we’ve been part of a community is often shorthand for identifying what we deeply treasure about a place.

The tricky thing about shorthand is that not everyone uses it the same way. Some places think the bigger your number of years as a member equals the more your vote counts when decisions are made. In some communities, the longer you have been there doing something means the more likely it is to only be done that way. Can you see how the messages get mixed up?

Sometimes we share how many years we’ve sat in the same pew thinking we are inviting a new person to find the same kind of comfort and commitment to their favorite spot, but what gets heard is, “Don’t sit anywhere that is already claimed!” My mother recently tried a new pew in her church (after 65 years!) only to discover it was much, much warmer on the other side of the aisle. I think they’re going to have a congregation meeting to vote on whether or not she can switch spots permanently.

I hope you can hear the small chuckle and see my head shake with these stories? I love that we have congregations full of people with deep investments and rich memories. And I love believing the longer we engage with faith, the more nimble we become—holding gently to things that are nonessential, and getting ever more open and curious about the new people and gifts God brings to our midst.

I’d love to practice introductions with you in the remaining months of our interim time. There’s always more we can learn about each other, and there’s always more to be shared.

In Hope and with hope, Interim Pastor Susan

A Prayer of Hope for the Call Process

Oh Spirit of God, thank you for the hours and effort that our call committee has already done and will continue to do in the weeks to come. Give them a sense of calm and lessen their burden, knowing that you are with them always as this process goes forth. Help us as a congregation to support them fully and not come in with specific agendas about what is to come with our new pastor, but rather a spirit of openness as we accept what the Spirit may guide us towards. Amen.

from Alden Tetlie, on behalf of the Call Process Prayer Team

Call Committee Update: Interviewing Candidates

Today (May 1), the Call Committee is receiving the Rostered Ministry Profile (RMP) papers of the candidates whom we will begin interviewing! The RMP includes a statement on the pastor's calling, prominent themes in their ministry, and the ministry setting which would make the best use of their gifts.

Based on the University Lutheran Church of Hope Ministry Site Profile (MSP), a description of our congregation submitted by our Transition Team, the Synod identifies pastors who are open to a call as a lead pastor and whose ministry gifts suggest they might be a good match with ULCH. In addition to demographic information about our congregation and data about our neighbors and our surrounding neighborhood, our MSP describes Hope as a thriving congregation, identifying the essential gifts the congregation seeks in a lead pastor: working collaboratively in a ministry team, communicating and administering effectively, providing care and nurture, and promoting social justice.

After an initial interview, the Call Committee will discern likely two or three semi-finalists whom we will invite Pastor Maria to meet, the Committee will attend worship services to hear the candidates preach and interact with their congregations and then conduct a second interview to discern a finalist for a third, more leisurely interview, after which the finalist will meet with the Vision and Governance Board and congregation, before the congregational vote. Throughout this discernment journey, the Call Committee is bound by a pledge of confidentiality.

Please pray that we as a Call Committee and a congregation will be led by the Spirit, to discern the pastor who will be a pastor who will walk with us, to ventures of which we cannot see the ending, confident of "blessings without number and mercies without end."

Linda Herman, Call Committee Chairperson

Strong Finish to Sunday Forums

May 4: Holy Land Update

We have the unique opportunity of having a direct connection with the Middle East via Zoom. Bishop Munib Younan is the retired bishop of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Jordan and the Holy Land. He served as president of the Lutheran World Federation from 2010 through 2017. Via Zoom from his home in Jerusalem, Bishop Younan will engage in a conversation with Pastor (and former ELCA Bishop) Mark Hanson, discussing the impact of the genocide and occupation on the Palestinian people, churches, and Christians in the Middle East. They will challenge us to work for a just and lasting peace for Palestine and Israel.

May 11: TBD watch the Thursday Epistle for announcement.

May 18: Remembering George Floyd's Murder and Public Outrage Through Art - The fifth anniversary of George Floyd's murder by police at Chicago and 38th in South Minneapolis is May 25th and the uprising and racial reckoning that followed. The Sunday forum committee invites you to a special forum on May 18 to honor and remember George Floyd and countless other people of color who've suffered death, injury, and trauma at the hands of law enforcement; and to reconsider our own places in a society that still cries out for racial justice, reconciliation, and repair. Now more than ever it is imperative that we face our history, both recent and more distant, honestly and soberly.

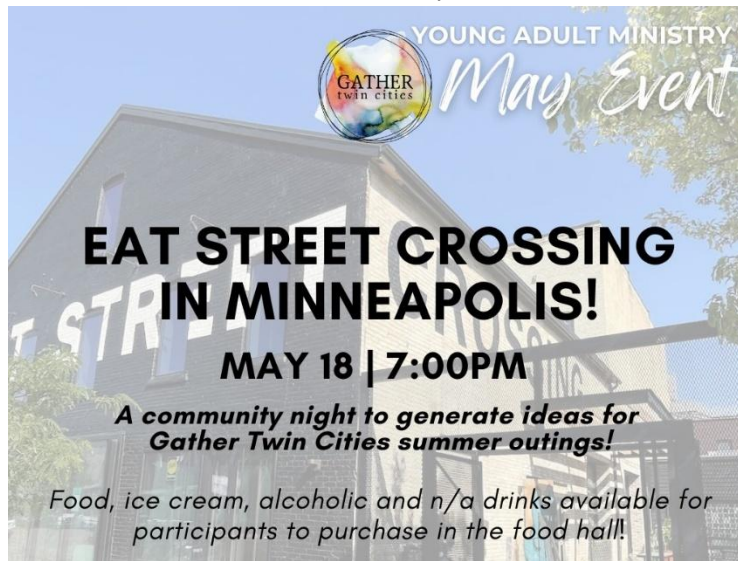

To mark the occasion, we are pleased to be joined by three faculty from St. Thomas University: Todd Lawrence, Heather Shirey, and Paul Lorah. Their collective efforts encompass the university's Urban Mapping Project, whose work has included a probing look at popular artistic expressions of protest, mourning, and commemoration in the Twin Cities, much of it spontaneous and ephemeral, in response to Floyd's murder. Our speakers will highlight that research, entitled "Landscapes of Resistance," which they will compare with parallel creative visual expressions associated with the Tulsa Race Massacre of 1921. This promises to be a forum that you won't want to miss. We hope to see you there.

There will be no forum on May 25 since it is Memorial Day weekend. Besides family time, this would be a great time to catch up on past Sunday Forum recordings, especially the presentation on March 23 by Marty Lewis-Hunstiger reviewing music by Tim Strand, Bobby Raganoonan, and Peter Ostroushko. There was a recording glitch that will be corrected by May and it would be well worth your time to hear the background stories of these talented musicians who were part of Hope in the past. Click here for link to the video.

We on the committee thank you for all the support we have received throughout this past year. We welcome your input as we prepare for next year's programming and look forward to seeing you in the fall.

The Car Wash is Closed – A Note From Our President

One dreary day in March I went to my local Holiday station for my car's monthly winter grime removal event. I had a plan—I purchased my code ahead of time, picked a time when the line would be short (about 15 minutes before closing) and I zipped over to the car wash. I have a rule: get in line only if there are three or fewer cars waiting; otherwise, it's a waste of my valuable time. Life's too short to sit in a car wash line. As I approached to enter my code, the screen flashed and a voice said, "the car wash is closed, please try again later." My plan failed and my car endured another day of grime.

You don't need a dreary day or an advance plan to attend Hope. If there are three or more cars ahead of you, no problem. No purchase necessary. No code required. No automated messages will stop you. It's definitely not a waste of your valuable time to attend worship, or a music performance, or volunteer, or just enjoy each other's companionship. Our doors and our hearts are open. And during your visit maybe some of that winter grime will wash away.

See you in church.

John Pignatello, Congregation President

Bible and Brews May 19th at 6:30pm

Exactly what it sounds like: bring your Bible, your favorite brewed beverage, and a penchant for laid-back but totally engaging conversations about faith, scripture, and current events. We meet the 3rd Monday of each month from 6:30pm to 8:00pm. Watch the Thursday Epistle or contact the church office for the meeting location.

Life Events

We're a community called to hold one another in prayer in every season—in our deepest need and grief, and in our experiences of new life. Here are a few of the life events affecting our community. We need your help to know for what we can pray. Please alert a pastor or contact the church office. We include in prayer...

Welcoming children and Baptisms—We pray for all who await and welcome children through joyful and challenging times.

Marriages—We pray for all those preparing for marriage, and for all relationships of commitment.

Deaths—We pray for God's strong embrace for all who grieve deaths and losses, those that are recent and those that were many years ago and whose memories fill us. We especially pray for the friends and family of Sharon Peterson and Jon Levy. We pray for Merrill Morse at the death of his sister-in-law Eleanore.

Significant Illness—We pray for those living with illness, cancer, recovery, uncertain diagnosis, hospice, chemical dependency and other addictions, and mental health struggles, including Zoe, Granger, Marge, Wendy, Miriam, Rosalie, Nyla, Pam, and Paul. We also pray for caregivers.

We pray for all who are impacted by new beginnings, separation, divorce, retirement, moves, graduations, and the civil rights movements of this time trusting in God's love, grace, and guidance at all times.

Rainbow Chairs for Our Patio

We now have five out of the six colors needed for our rainbow, all we need is PURPLE. This may be difficult to find, but I found a work around is to buy one that is closest to the color and then spray paint it. (I did this for the yellow and orange chairs). If you are willing to buy the purple chair, contact me and I can give you information on where to buy it and if needed, what paint will work on plastic.
